Price opposes benefit cuts

In a statement before a House subcommittee, Cong. Melvin Price (D-23rd Ill.) supported legislation to eliminate the decrease in veterans' benefits that results when Congress increases social security payments.

"Veterans' pensions and compensation are determined on the basis of income from outside sources," explained Cong. Price, "and social security increases are currently included in that calculation. Thus, when social security is increased, veterans' benefits are consequently decreased, and the net effect is no increase for veterans."

"As the cost of living continues to rise, Congress assists groups who live on fixed incomes in keeping up with rising prices. One way of doing this has been cost-of-living increases in social security. But many veterans never feel the effect of these increases because for them the present law negates a social security hike. Thus, their income remains static while prices continue to rise."

Price, a co-sponsor of the remedial legislation, noted that there are approximately 1,029,000 veterans collecting pensions; 70 per cent of whom receive social security benefits as well. "These 720,300 are the men and women adversely affected by the present law," said the Congressman. "It is a distressing anomaly that these people should be, effectively penalized for holding the otherwise honored status of veteran."

"If we wish to maintain the integrity of the veterans' pension and compensation system, this legislation is indispensable," concluded Rep. Price.

Groundbreaking at church

The Central Free Methodist Church conducted ground breaking ceremonies Sunday afternoon at 2:30 p.m. for the construction of a new church at 4150 South St., located at the South end of Lake Street in Pontoon Village.

The board of trustees with the pastor, Eugene Stevenson broke ground in preparation for the structure estimated to cost nearly $90,000. The new church has been designed by Architect William Thompson and will be erected by Stephens-Wilson Assoc., Inc. of Granite City.

4-H competitions set

Like a page from the script of the well-known movie "State Fair," the 4-H Share-the-Fun Festival usually displays plenty of planning, anticipated excitement and family involvement.

The festival is held nightly at 7 o'clock, Aug. 8-15, in the Junior Home Economics Building at the Illinois State Fair. Some of the most talented 4-H members from throughout the state compete, with acts selected from county festivals. Presentations may not last longer than 10 minutes and can be chosen from such categories as music, drama, dance, and will be judged by the widest variety of judges.

The Central Free Methodist Church which was organized in Madison in 1914 relocated in 1956 to the former Central Christian Church at 22nd and State streets. Last month the church moved out of this building and members have been worshipping on the site where the new church will be constructed.

A reception followed the ceremonies and included a farewell for Assistant Pastor Rev. Don Pratt who has accepted a pastoral appointment in the Central Illinois Conference.

Share-the-Fun may be considered a family festival, too, with Mom helping with an idea or making a costume. Dad driving the family to the Fair, and brothers, sisters, relatives and friends comprising the cheering section.

Contestants are divided into eight groups, according to county. One group, consisting from as few as 11 counties or as many as 14, competes each night.

Each member of the winning acts receives an appropriate ribbon and all other contestants are given a participation ribbon.

Entitled "Right In Our Own Back Yard," the Illinois State Fair runs Aug. 9-15.

WAR, platinum album winner for "The World is a Ghetto," will appear Wednesday night at the Mississippi River Festival. The group, formerly known as the Night Shift, has drawn a giant following in the past two years.

Secret drug unit to be organized

Under the leadership of Chief Judge Fred P. Schuman and members of the Third Judicial Circuit Court and Madison County Sheriff John Maeras, drug pushers are going to encounter real problems.

Members of the court, government officials, Southwestern Law Enforcement Commission members and police chiefs held an "Interagency Narcotics and Law Enforcement Conference," as the first step in establishing an area-wide undercover drug abuse police unit that has been termed "a covert narcotics enforcement operation."

A proposed Metropolitan Enforcement Group (MEG) to serve Madison, St. Clair, Monroe and Bond Counties will be studied in depth by Sheriff Maeras and local police chiefs.

Each police department participating would assign at least one man full-time to the special unit with broad police powers in the four county area. MEG would operate from one or more secret headquarters, avoid publicity, make arrests and turn the offenders over to authorities in that jurisdiction.

John Fahnestock, an expert on MEG from the Illinois Law Enforcement Commission, explained the procedures in detail at the meeting.

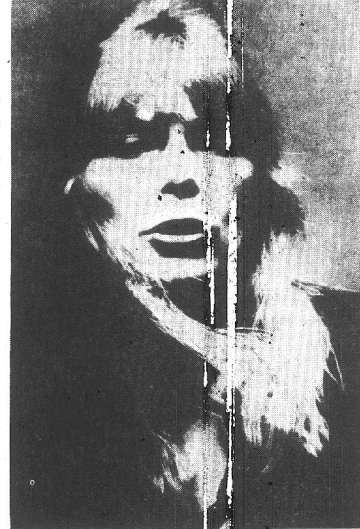

Fahnestock noted the several MEG units are already in operation in several Illinois cities, with the largest in Cook county with 58 men working out of three secret offices.

Establishing such a unit for this area would cost about $200,000, with a federal grant paying about 95 per cent, or $195,000.

The unit would be governed by a "board of directors" consisting of the participating chiefs of police and commanded by a professional in drug and narcotics enforcement who would be brought in from outside the area.

MEG officers would have full deputy sheriff powers in all four counties and would use a secret radio frequency assigned to the Illinois Bureau of Investigation intelligence unit that works out of Collinsville.

Judge Schuman said, "this is a very serious problem, the need is urgent and the time is urgent."

JONI MITCHELL, who with Tom Scott and the L.A. Express, will be appearing tomorrow night at the Mississippi River Festival. The program begins at 8:30 p.m. on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Films, Joni Mitchell, War to appear at Festival tent

Three Bogart films, Joni Mitchell, War and a night of Country Western Music are scheduled at the Mississippi River Festival at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville next week. All performances begin at 8:30.

Next in the Monday night film series at MRF is an evening of Humphrey Bogart American Classics tonight. "The Maltese Falcon" features Bogey as Sam Spade in one of the best private eye films ever made. "In 'Casablanca,' Ingrid Bergman and Peter Lorre join Bogart in a melodrama of love and intrigue.

"The African Queen" is third on the triple bill featuring Bogart in his Academy Award winning performance with co-star Katharine Hepburn. Tickets for the films are $2 general admission.

Joni Mitchell makes her second appearance at the festival on Tuesday evening. Appearing with her will be Tom Scott and The L.A. Express, a group of studio musicians with classical training which includes Scott on reeds and woodwinds; John Guerin on drums; Max Bennett on bass; Roger Kellaway on electric piano and Robin Ford on guitar.

Miss Mitchell, 30, was born in McLeod, Alberta, Canada, and originally intended to become a commercial artist. She took along a ukelele to earn money while enrolling in the Alberta College of Art and discovered that she enjoyed singing more than painting. She appeared in clubs in Detroit then went to New York where Reprise Records discovered and signed her. Her new album is "Court and Spark" recorded with Tom Scott and The L.A. Express.

War comes to Edwardsville on Wednesday. In the last two years, it has become one of the most successful rock recording groups in the country. Originally the band (a group of musicians from the same Los Angeles neighborhood) was known as the Night Shift. The group teamed with Eric Burdon and recorded their first single, "Spill The Wine" which was an immediate smash.

It led to the albums, "Eric Burdon Declares War" and "Black Man's Burden," on the United Artists label. War's platinum album, "The World Is A Ghetto," was chosen Billboard's Number One pop album of 1973.

Friday, Aug. 9, is Country Western Night at the Mississippi River Festival. Tom T. Hall, Melba Montgomery and The Hagers combine their talents in a night of Nashville sounds.

At least one song written by Hall has been on country music's national popularity charts every week for more than eight years. It was his song, "Harper Valley P.T.A.," that brought him to national prominence in 1968 when it was recorded by Jeannie C. Riley.

Hall himself plays guitar and is a specialist in story telling and in describing people. He travels with a five-piece band and performs at county fairs, country music nightclubs, college campuses and outdoor parks.

Melba Montgomery began singing in a church choir and learned to play guitar and fiddle. After winning a talent

Woman cuts wrist, refuses police help or treatment

A Granite City woman was admitted to Alton State Hospital Thursday after she had attempted to take her life by repeatedly slashing her right wrist with razor blades during a four-hour period.

Police first were called to her home in the 2600 block of E. 25th Street by a relative who said the woman was about to cut her wrists. The woman refused to answer knocks at her door. Officers looked in a window and saw her repeatedly cutting her right wrist with a razor blade.

The woman's relative agreed to break the front door after which police entered and attempted to help the woman. She refused help, saying she wanted to die, and to be sure her children were taken care of.

Police and ambulance personnel had to struggle with her to get her into the ambulance and when they arrived at St. Elizabeth Hospital, she refused treatment, signed a waiver and released and walked out.

Police and relatives searched the city for about two hours before the woman was found lying in the old cemetery behind Kirkpatrick Homes, still bleeding from the wrist.

Again she refused help from officers and she got up and walked to her home where she obtained a razor blade and cut her wrist several more times.

For almost two hours, police and relatives tried to get her to agree to hospital treatment, but she continued to refuse. Quad-City Mental Health Clinic personnel were summoned and prepared the necessary papers for her relatives to have her committed against her will at Alton State Hospital.

After the papers were signed, she was taken by ambulance to the Alton hospital.

"The car veered across the track, barely missing the rear of the other car. It hit the guard railing and pole vaulted through the cyclone fence and into the last section of bleachers near the speed traps."

A trained medical student rushed to the scene and described it as one of horror.

"The car had caught fire and people involved were burned and cut badly."

"A woman had her face mangled and people were taking pieces of her clothing and trying to get her shoes off for souvenirs. It also was disgusting the way others fought for pieces of the wrecked car."

Ten injured persons were taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital in Granite City.

Lynn Hufford, 17, of 1933 Maple St., Granite City, suffered cuts and bruises to the left side of his chest.

His wife, Marge Hufford, 17, was knocked into the bleachers and was admitted for bruising.

Truman Hufford, 45, also of the Maple Street address, father of Lynn Hufford, was treated for left ankle cuts and bruises.

Bruce Reilly, 49, of Collinsville, was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital at 6 p.m. Sunday and transferred to Firmin Desloge Hospital, St. Louis, following a traffic accident. Reilly suffered multiple abrasions and cuts to the head.

Baby found dead in paper bag

Investigation continued by the Madison County Sheriff's Department today into the apparent murder of a newborn boy whose body was discovered in a paper bag, along Springfield Valley Road near Troy at 1:55 p.m. Saturday.

A medical examination of the child's lungs revealed the infant was alive when born, deputies said. Time of death was placed between 1:30 p.m. Friday and 2 a.m. Saturday. The sheriff's office said that case is being treated as a homicide.

Strike does not affect ports here

A strike by Boilermakers Local No. 365 of Belleville which began Friday against the National Marine Services Co. of Hartford will not affect the port areas in Granite City, according to Carl Ranft, director of the Tri-City Regional Port Authority.

Marine Services, a ship repair company, rents one month-to-month basis 1,100 feet of floating area for the storage of barges on the waterfront here.

According to a company spokesman, union representatives were taking a recommendation to accept at the conclusion of a negotiation session Thursday.

The company owns two harbor boats and the major problems apparently lie in the difference between plant workers and those who operate the boats.

There are 212 union members employed by the company. The local floating area was picketed Friday, but there were no pickets reported there this morning.

SEVERANCE PAY

The Land Use Committee of the Madison County Board on Thursday authorized $3,700 severance pay to Jack Clifford. His dismissal as zoning and building officer was upheld last week in a 6-1 vote by the board's executive committee.

Grid practice will begin in 2 weeks

The start of 1974 football practice — and the beginning of the first step toward participation in the first-ever Illinois High School Association (IHSA) football playoff series — is only two weeks away.

Practice begins Monday, Aug. 19, for the Association's 529 football-playing member schools, including Madison and Granite City's North and South. Some schools will issue equipment and arrange to have physical examinations at an earlier date, but under IHSA rules, no school may organize or practice its football team before the second Monday preceding regular play.

Under changes in Bylaws for this school year, any or all fall sports teams at a member school may participate in their first contest (game or meet) on the day school opens, Aug. 19. This means that fall sports teams in all sports, including baseball, boys cross country, boys fall golf, boys soccer and girls tennis, will begin their season on the day school opens.

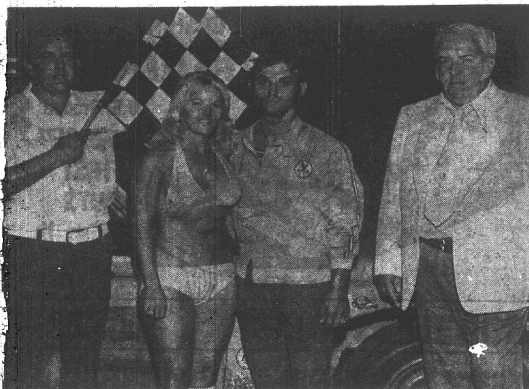

Championship will be crowned in statewide competition.

In football, players must engage in a minimum of 90 hours of actual field practice on each of 14 days (excluding Sunday) preceding the first game or scrimmage against a team from another school.

Preliminary (first-round) games in the football playoff series will be held Wednesday, Nov. 6. Champions in each of the five classes will be crowned on the weekend of Nov. 22-23 on the artificial turf of Hancock Stadium, Illinois State University, Normal.

Officials registered with the IHSA in football — as well as principals, athletic directors, coaches and other faculty at member schools — will be given uniform instruction in revisions of the 1974 National Alliance Football Rules at 23 sites throughout the state and surrounding areas by five IHSA-appointed rules, interpreters, including a session at Belleville East, Room B-106, on Aug. 26. Serving as interpreters this year will be IHSA Asst. Executive Secretary L. L. Astroth, Norman Geske of Wheeling, Charles Hillman of Hickley, Ted Search of Chester and Robert L. Wright of Champaign. The series of meetings begins Aug. 21 and will conclude Sept. 4.

Wins place on tennis team

Granite Cityan Bill Rusick, who as a tennis standout at Granite City High School South led the Warriors to the Illinois state tennis finals this year, has added yet another feat to his scrapbook.

The local youth this week entered a St. Louis District Tennis Association National Inter-Cities qualifying tournament at Forest Park, where he joined four other players in earning a spot on a St. Louis team that will compete in the National Cities tournament Aug. 11-17 in Columbus, Ohio.

The five compiled the best records in the three-day round-robin tournament which ended Thursday. Rusick won seven straight matches before forfeiting his final match.

Boys football teams to register players

Candidates for the Granite City Little Rascals tackle football teams may register Thursday at the Nameki Recreation center, Amos and Franklin avenues.

An orientation clinic will be held at 8 p.m. for prospective players and their parents to brief them about the organization and its program.

All boys must turn in a registration form, completed and signed by a parent, and the registration fee which includes the cost of player insurance, before he is allowed to participate in a practice. Initial practice sessions may start Saturday, Aug. 10.

Participants may sign up for play in the Junior Pee Wee, Pee Wee, and Midget Divisions. The Junior Pee Wee team is for boys weighing 65 pounds or less, and who are 9 years old or younger by Sept. 2 of the current year.

The Pee Wee team will consist of boys who have not reached the age of 11 before Sept. 2, and who weigh 85 pounds or less, and 11-year-old boys who weigh 75 pounds or less.

The Midget team will consist of boys weighing 115 pounds or less during the season and who have not reached the age of 13 before Sept. 2, and 13-year-old boys who weigh 100 pounds or less.

Bob Patrick, president of the Little Rascals, said that there still are openings in all three divisions but that there is a possible shortage of practice equipment for those boys who register late.

Equipment furnished by the club to the players include: helmet with facemask, shoulder pads, pants with all pads, 2 game jerseys for both home and away, game leg socks and the boys first mouthpiece.

Petrillo wins 2nd straight women's state softball title

Petrillo Produce of Granite City, defending state champion, defeated five straight opponents during the weekend to capture its second consecutive Illinois Amateur Softball Association women's slow-pitch state title at the VFW Field in Caseyville.

Petrillo, the only undefeated squad in the tourney, downed the Challengers of Fults, Ill., 11-3 in the first game; defeated Sammy's Tavern of Granite City 12-10; beat the Collinsville Base-Dusters 10-9; and outscored the Collinsville Comanches twice, 17-2 and 5-2, in the finals.

North football equipment to be issued Aug. 13-14

Tom Wyrostek, coach of the Steele football program at Granite City High School North, has announced that player equipment will be issued for that school's 1974 football program beginning Tuesday, Aug. 13 from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. for junior and senior students, is the school's gymnasium.

Freshmen and sophomore players will be issued their equipment from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. Wednesday, Aug. 14.

Division winning Braves lose league title game 7-6

Labeled as the "Cinderella" team of the Belleville Area Traveling Baseball League, the Granite City Braves lost their big Saturday as "rookie" league champions after losing 7-6 to Belleville West at Wilson Park. The Braves had won the Blue Division and West had captured the Red Division.

The Braves opened the contest with a first-inning run. Ed Schmidt reached base after being hit by a pitch and then he scored. He later scored on a sacrifice fly by Scarborough.

Topes of a Braves victory were dampened in the second inning when Belleville scored five runs on three walks, two hits and an error. West then made the score 7-1 in the third.

Refusing to give up, the local nine fought back with a run in the fourth. Jim Jackson drew a leadoff walk, stole second and went to third on a wild pitch. He scored on Tim Luehmann's sacrifice fly.

In the fifth, Rich Fancher reached base on an error and was driven in on a triple by Rich Schmidt. Schmidt made the score 7-4 by scoring on a sacrifice fly by Scarborough.

The Braves kept their hitting power going in the sixth but failed to catch up.

With two away, Larry Seiler walked, stole second and crossed the plate on Brian Silk's double. Silk scored on Seiler's single up the middle for the final run.

Earlier Saturday, the Braves won a first-round contest, 1-0, to St. Gabriel's in the Lemay Mo. Association Tournament.

Despite the loss, Braves hurler John Scott was the star of the game, as he allowed the St. Louis Catholic League champions only two hits. Scott walked three batters and struck out 22.

The Granite City squad renewed its chances for an overall tournament victory by upsetting St. Simon 9-1 in the consolation bracket of the double-elimination tournament, thus earning the right to meet the Brentwood Comets in the semi-finals tomorrow evening. The winner will compete in the final Friday.

On Wednesday and Thursday, the Braves will play host to two East St. Louis squads at 6 p.m. each day in non-league games at Wilson Park.

Mercer comback defeats Livingston

The Mercer nine continued its winning ways in Illinois Inter-City Baseball League combat with a comeback victory by defeating Livingston 5-3 Sunday at Wilson Park.

Mercer outdid the visitors 12-11 and erred three times to Livingston's one error.

Livingston had a 3-0 shutout going until the fifth inning, when Bill Carr singled and scored on Harvey Breckner's double and Pitcher Mike Hecker singled Breckner home. Rich Schardan tied the contest with a solo home run in the sixth.

Winner Pat Harris — he relied Hecker on the mound in the sixth — kicked off Mercer's seventh inning with a single and advanced on Jack Scarborough's hit.

A single by Dave Huddleston scored Harris with the go-ahead run and Scarborough wrapped up the win by scoring on Bob Scott's sacrifice fly.

Mercer will carry its 8-5 record into action Thursday at 7 p.m. at Highland-Pierson in a makeup contest that was rained out two weeks ago.

The local squad will not compete this coming weekend after drawing a bye.

Texas cycle rider setting most records at races here

By KEN THOMPSON

Three years ago a youthful motorcycle racer from Texas, attempting to break into the ranks of the American Motorcycle Association (AMA), crashed in an early season race and set aside the remainder of the year.

The following year he tackled race after race and won enough events to earn the rank of an AMA junior rider.

This year the 20-year-old bachelor named Guy McClure, has won two of three events at the Daytona International Speedway, and set the fastest qualifying time in the Astro-Dome at Houston, Tex. He now is riding his way into the record books here at Tri-City Speedway every Tuesday evening.

Ask him about his first season accident and McClure will strip to the waist and display a scar starting at his left elbow and ending at his neck for an answer to your question.

If one were to ask him his philosophy on cycle racing, his answer probably would be: "Records were made to be broken and races were made to be won."

McClure is turning his philosophy into reality here and now holds three Tri-City Speedway records thus far: a quarter-mile track record, most feature race starts, most feature race victories.

He has started in five of the eight weekly main events, dropped out of two because of mechanical problems after leading the race, and captured three others — one more than his closest competitor James Lee, also of Texas.

Last Tuesday he not only captured a high point earning feature race, but set a new track record of 15.42 seconds in qualifying time trials.

At 7 p.m. tomorrow, McClure will guide his factory backed cycle to the starting line at Tri-City Speedway and attempt to shatter his own qualifying record. When the first heat race jumps off the line at 8 p.m., he will be seeking a fourth sweep to victory.

Match play golf tourney

Collinsville's Camelot Golf Course will conduct an open match-play golf tournament from Aug. 24 through Sept. 1.

The tourney open to all age brackets, will consist of five flights with each playing four rounds of elimination play before a championship round is held.

With each flight limited to the first 16 golfers to enter, each player must have registered two 18-hole rounds during the month of August for flight placement.

More than $600 in prizes and other contingency awards will be presented to winners. Entry fee is $5 per person plus a charge for green fees. Additional information may be obtained by calling 344-9822.

SPECIAL MEETING
A special meeting to recruit flag football team managers will be held by the Granite City Park District at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Nameki Recreation Center, Amos and Franklin Avenues.

Pryor-Hurst, Prudhomme, Huff win national races

The beautiful Pryor and Hurst top fueler, Don "The Snake" Prudhomme in his Army funny car, and Larry Huff in the "Snoopy Sales" pro-stock racer, were top money winners at the Gateway Nationals of Drag Racing this weekend at St. Louis International Raceway south of Madison.

Huff also was the winner in two of three races during a special grudge race match Saturday night with the Grumpy's Toy Vega of Bill Jenkins. In addition, the Sooty Sales Dodge was the fastest qualifier in Saturday night's activities.

Rain forced curtailment of most events scheduled for Friday night and only a few time trials could be conducted before the event had to be halted.

Saturday featured hectic full-funny car field yesterday to win, the Gateway Nationals of Drag Racing and, add to his lead in the season's funny car point race.

A side-by-side final run was not to be, however, as McEwen's engine exploded on the starting line and Prudhomme earned the top money with a solo pass in .52 seconds.

In the first round yesterday, Prudhomme's Vega ran Tom Hoover's "Shooting Charger" in side-by-side by runs, Prudhomme being upset by Hoover.

Jim "Superman" Nicoll topped Don Zollner, Jim Jokers in the "Snidley Whiplash" "Shooting Charger" and Jackie Price pulled the upset of the day, reaching the finish line before Gene "The Snowman" Shaw.

Butch Claunch topped Johnny White, Don Cain dundund Tra Hollenbe and McEwen outran the Whitted and Custy car, driven by Dick Custy.

In second round action, Prudhomme ended Nicoll's chances, Jokers overthrew Price, Hoover stopped Claunch and McEwen finished in front of Hoover.

Prudhomme then blasted past Jokers and McEwen topped Hoover to set up the final run. Top fuel first round action saw John Austin in the "Hot Tuna" AA fuel dragster, which qualified first in the meet, stop Marvin Graham.

Pryor and Hurst won when "Kansas John" Wiebe's car would not start.

Dale Funk upset the popular Chris "The Greek" Karamasines, and Billy Campbell in the Goldigger topped Don Souler.

In the semifinals, Pryor and Hurst outran the Hot Tuna, and the Goldigger stopped Funk. In the final run, the Peoria Pryor and Hurst team ran the

Dorchester retains conference swim title

Dorchester Swim Club of Belleville withstood a strong effort by Summersport for the last two years, and retained the Southwest Illinois Swimming Association title in the championship meet held Saturday at Belleville Country Club, St. Louis.

Only 2 1/2 points separated Dorchester and Summersport in accumulated team point totals at the conclusion of the 10 1/2-hour marathon meet, and a 3-point difference between Belleville and the fourth place finisher with 226 points, and the local squad.

Heart life class at GC hospital

St. Elizabeth Hospital will conduct a two-hour Heart Life Emergency Life Procedures program (HELP) from 1 to 3 p.m. Wednesday at the hospital. The class is open to the public and is offered to all persons interested in learning emergency care procedures for victims of heart attack, drowning, electrocution and other heart-lung emergencies.

More than 600,000 persons die of heart attacks in the United States each year, and an estimated 60 per cent of these could be saved if they received help in a 4 to 6 minutes after the attack—the length of time the brain can survive without oxygen before irreversible damage is done, hospital authorities noted.

Those interested in attending the class may contact the trauma coordinator at St. Elizabeth Hospital, 876-2020, extension 411 or 412, or register at 1 p.m. Wednesday.

July rain .84 of inch

One of the driest July months in recent years occurred this year with only .84 of an inch of rainfall scattered over nine days of the month, according to rainfall records at the Chain of Rocks locks.

Normal rainfall for July is 3.20 inches. A total fall of 2.60 inches was recorded in July last year, and 2.17 inches fell in July 1972.

There were 20 days of last month without rainfall and two days on which only a trace was recorded. A trace is insufficient to register on rainfall instruments.

Rainfall during the month included .02 of an inch on July 1, .10 of an inch on July 10, 20 on July 11, .07 on July 14, .04 on July 15, .25 on July 20, .05 on July 21, .03 on July 23 and .08 on July 28.

The long dry spell was partially broken Friday with a heavy rain over a brief period that registered .32 of an inch. Friday's rainfall was the only precipitation recorded during the first five days of this month.

Example set by Paul Simon shows it would be a sound move for the state to designate lieutenant governor as the official ombudsman of Illinois

There is merit to Lt. Gov. Neil Hartigan's proposal that the lieutenant governor be designated the state's official ombudsman. In regard to the duties of the lieutenant governor, the Constitution of 1970 says merely: "The lieutenant governor shall perform the duties and exercise the powers in the executive branch that may be delegated to him by the governor and that may be prescribed by law."

Clearly the General Assembly has the power under this constitutional provision to give the lieutenant governor the ombudsman assignment.

As to the need for it, that was proved by former Lt. Gov. Paul Simon. He assumed the role of unofficial ombudsman and succeeded in getting legislative and executive agencies. In some instances the office was able to serve as advocate for a citizen in dealing with other state agencies. And there were, of course, some cases in which the lieutenant governor found the citizen's complaint against government had no merit or the request for government action was unjustified.

Hartigan properly points out that government has grown to such an extent in recent decades that the citizen doesn't know to whom to turn. If the lieutenant governor's office were publicly recognized as the ombudsman, the citizen could start to get advice on where to go and the information or action he's seeking.

In the absence of any such assignment for the lieutenant governor, he is left to do only what the governor directs. In some cases he might be a key member of the administration, but in the present circumstance, with Hartigan and Gov. Daniel Walker coming from different — and sometimes conflicting — wings of the party, it is naive to expect the governor to give much responsibility to the man who was his running mate.

However, we do not advocate the ombudsman role just to have something for the lieutenant governor to do. We recommend it because there is a need for an ombudsman and the lieutenant governor is in a unique position to perform the job well.

The General Assembly should take Hartigan's suggestion seriously.

Ruling for new Education Board paves way for it to pick superintendent

The Illinois Supreme Court has ruled wisely in upholding the constitutionality of the law creating the new state Board of Education. The high court rejected arguments that the law was discriminatory because it prevents educators from serving on the board. The court clearly sustained the intent of the legislature which included the provision in the law creating the board in order to prevent any potential conflicts of interests. The court correctly interpreted the will of the legislature "to prevent placing people on the board whose other interests would naturally tend to promote or favor one segment of the state's educational structure over another."

The Supreme Court was also on firm ground in rejecting arguments that the law was too vague and that geographical restrictions on board membership were arbitrary. The legislature earlier this year refused to pass a bill that would have changed the basis for geographical representation. The court's decision should now put this issue to rest.

The way is now cleared for the 17 member body to go about its main and immediate business, selecting a new state school superintendent and preparing for an orderly changeover from the present system of an elected superintendent to an appointed one next January.

The sooner the board names a superintendent, the better for the schools of Illinois.

The board should act quickly in following up the court's decision and select a superintendent. We need an outstanding man for this critical post.

Fond memories of hammocks

Unless you lived then, it would be next to impossible to picture a summer day about 60 years ago. It was warm and breezy and dusty and calm, with a calmness which was practically nonexistent today. All the window shades were pulled to shut out the sun and the house was cool and comfortable, for there was no such thing as air conditioning or electric fans. In fact, you could walk many a crooked mile before you found a house which even had electricity.

The children, however, played outside. They mostly went barefoot, but otherwise they were fully clothed on the principle that clothes kept heat out as well as in, and there must have been something to that theory because nobody seemed to mind the hot weather any more than they do now.

Congress is resuming control of budget

WASHINGTON — For the first time in 53 years Congress is ready to resume a major role in shaping and developing the federal budget and determining the priorities under which it will operate.

This was assured when President Nixon recently signed into law the new Congressional Budget and Impoundment Control Act of 1974, widely considered the most important congressional reform enacted in recent years.

Among other things the legislation requires that Congress set overall spending totals and adjust individual appropriation bills to fit those totals, and that it complete work on the budget step by step, by agreed dates, ending five days before the new fiscal year begins.

This alone is almost revolutionary. In recent years Congress has treated each of the 13 major appropriation bills as separate entities without relating their spending totals to an overall budget limit. It seldom completed its work until long after the fiscal year had begun.

The result was a hodgepodge dumped on the President's doorstep. It was left to him to trim excess spending to what he and his Office of Management and Budget (OMB) considered proper and within the nation's reach.

In one sense this was one of the great cop-outs of American history, a refusal by Congress to organize itself in a manner that would permit and require it to exercise its clear constitutional powers over revenue raising and spending.

History created that situation. For the first 134 years of the Republic Congress did exercise undisturbed control over the federal purse strings.

The key unit was the House Ways and Means Committee, and later the Senate Finance Committee.

This orderly budget procedure began to break down when the House in 1867, responding to the pressures of an increasingly complex society, peeled off the major responsibility for appropriating money and gave it to new appropriations committees in both House and Senate.

This began a fragmentation of the budget process. Ways and Means and Senate Finance still had control over raising money, but the new appropriations committees now were supreme in determining how it would be dispersed.

Within two decades various legislative committees persuaded Congress to vest them with sole authority over eight of the 13 annual appropriation bills, creating new confusion and more fragmentation.

The result: Congress in 1921 passed the Budget and Accounting Act establishing a Bureau of the Budget (now Office of Management and Budget) with authority to reconcile the government's spending and revenue estimates.

The bureau was lodged first in the Treasury Department, then in 1939, moved to the executive office of the president.

From that time until the present the president in particular and the budget agency in general became the key elements in compiling the federal budget and submitting it to Congress.

This meant the president played a top role in allocating the nation's resources, or did so to the extent he could get his original budget through Congress.

For by determining how much should be spent for various agencies and programs he was setting priorities and directing the development of the nation's great and far-reaching power.

By 1968 Congress was showing increasing irritation over its own abdication of responsibility and the increased authority this had given the executive branch.

That irritation grew into open conflict with the Nixon administration as the new President attempted to hold conditionally authorized spending within limits by impounding funds — particularly for programs he did not like. Mr. Nixon himself became an outspoken critic of Congress' failure to weigh in all budget spending when enacting individual appropriation bills.

One result was formation of a joint congressional study committee. It prepared reports and proposals largely incorporated into the just-signed new legislation.

Among other things the 1974 act establishes a new congressional Budget Office with its own staff, computers and experts rivaling those in OMB. It sets up new House and Senate budget committees.

It requires Congress to set budget totals and fit appropriation bills into them, and changes the budget year from July 1-June 30 to Oct. 1-Sept. 30.

These changes are to be fully effective Oct. 1, 1975, when fiscal year 1977 begins. Congress then will have the opportunity to take back and exercise the power it gave away in 1921.

Auditor general responsible to legislature

"RINGFIELD" — "A highly political person" — Sen. Ted Clark, R-Western Sp.

"An excellent state employee... very level-headed" — Secretary of State Michael Hoyett.

"A stickler for detail, who likes things very precise" — Deputy Secretary of State I. Lawrence Richardson.

They're referring to Robert Greigville Cronson, who has been confirmed by the legislature for a 10-year term as state auditor general, a $40,600-a-year post with broad new powers to probe state spending.

Clark, chairman of the Legislative Audit Commission which recommended Cronson over his objection, had favored acting Auditor Gen. David B. Thomas on the grounds the Constitution-drafters wanted someone apolitical in the sensitive post.

Democrat Howlett, whom Cronson serves as director of planning, is the fourth secretary of state with whom the auditor general-designated has been associated.

He started out with the late Charles P. Carpenter, a Republican, as a $425-a-month securities examiner 20 years ago. He became secretary of state in 1965 and assistant secretary of state three years later. When Carpenter died, the late William Chamberlain, a Democrat, became acting secretary of state, and Cronson on the payroll for a few months.

During the term of the late Paul Powell, also a Democrat, Cronson served on the secretary's management advisory committee. In the last two decades, Republican John Lewis was the only secretary with whom Cronson had no association.

Richardson has not only been Cronson's co-worker in Howlett's office but also helped his own name in for the auditor general's appointment.

"If Robert Cronson hadn't been running for the post, I would have gone after it extremely hard," says Richardson.

Instead Richardson became one of Cronson's boosters. "He always surrounds himself with good people, and he will listen when he lacks expertise in a given area," says Richardson.

"He is by no means aristocratic or a very personable guy. He is the kind of guy, who if there were somebody in trouble he disliked, he'd try to help him. His troubles were legitimate."

Cronson's own troubles stemmed from his administrative abilities or his personality but his political background.

He grew up in a political environment. His late father Berthold Cronson, who died when Cronson was 13, served as a floor leader in Chicago Mayor William "Big Bill" Thompson during the 1920s.

"I was born into it. ... I grew up with politics around the house," said Cronson.

After obtaining his bachelor's degree in economics from Dartmouth College in 1947 and his law degree from the University of Chicago Law School in 1950, Cronson became actively engaged in politics by aiding an old friend of his father's in a Chicago ward committee fight.

"That's what got me interested in the political wars," he said.

It was his role in political wars that caused a Chicago newspaper to editorially oppose him for the post "because he lacks ability or has been involved in scandal but because he is precisely what the drafters of the 1970 Constitution did not want in the post of a political creature."

Rep. Roscoe Cunningham, R-Laurens, said Cronson's appointment would lead to "cronism in this sensitive post."

The job is undeniably sensitive. Formerly the auditor general, then appointed by the governor, generally was limited to overseeing audits to determine that spending complied with laws, rules and regulations.

The new auditor general, appointed by the legislature and working under the Legislative Audit Commission, has the expanded power to review the performance, efficiency and administrative competence of agencies and programs at the commission's direction.

"If the powers could be used against agencies, but Cronson doesn't see it as a power tool to be wielded by the auditor general."

"If the auditor general is going to comply with statutory requirements, he really is not going to be in much of a position to blacken anybody other than by submitting data to the legislature," he said.

"They, in turn, would be in position to do something about it."

Cronson thinks the "political creature" criticism is founded upon a misconception of what the auditor general's job will be.

"People like to talk somewhat loosely of the auditor general as a public watchdog and therefore should be completely apolitical," said Cronson.

"First of all the auditor general is a public official responsible to the legislature first and foremost; and thereafter, if at all, through the legislature to the public."

Cronson sees his political background, which also included serving as assistant to a Senate president pro tem in 1957, as an asset, not a drawback.

"I think it is essential the auditor general have a grasp of, an affinity for and an ability to deal with the legislative institution," Cronson said.

"I don't think anybody can do that unless he does have some understanding of that political institution. ... I don't feel at all that a political background should disqualify you; I think it's almost a requirement."

Cronson said suggestions he might be inclined to shun the vocation is "a legitimate inquiry but not a legitimate conclusion."

"I don't think you can indict everybody who has ever been involved in the political process on the grounds they are therefore corrupt," he said.

"I've had a lot of people doing a lot of looking at me over the past few weeks. I think my reputation is pretty well established. The fact is in approximately 20 years in government service not only have I never been accused of exercising favoritism or closing my eyes or being unresponsive to misconduct, I've never even been accused of it."

"Most of the people I know who are knowledgeable observers — and that includes members of the press with certain notable exceptions — have not seen fit to cast any aspersions on my willingness to do what that needs to be done."

The quietly personable Cronson, who speaks as if each sentence is being mentally measured beforehand, enjoys such quiet pursuits as stamp collecting and reading Civil War histories.

"I got hung up on Lincoln so many years ago; I think that's what got me started," he said. "When I do get time, I visit battlefields with my little manual, my West Point battle guide and I walk through the war."

He and his second wife, Sonja, also are theater buffs and enjoy traveling — for which he has had little time lately.

"I read almost anything that has some Anglo-American historical significance. ... Beyond that, I read junk like spy-thrillers, science fiction, detective stories. It's escapism, and I enjoy it."

For the next 10 years — and Cronson said he plans to serve the full term — he'll have little time for casual reading. He will be too busy reading and supervising audits of state agencies to see if the spending comes under a science-fiction category.

He has been testified somewhere, "What is man that thou are mindful of him, or that son of man that thou carest for him?" — Heb. 2:6.

The concern for man and his destiny must always be the chief interest of all technical effort. Never forget it among your diagrams and equations. — Albert Einstein.

Many have access to your tax return

By JAMES CARRY
Washington Bureau Chief

WASHINGTON — If you ever have wondered just how secret your income tax return is, the answer is quite secret — with some notable exceptions.

Normally the information provided is to be examined in executive — meaning closed — session.

In the case of state tax bodies or commissions authorized to look at returns, the request for tax information must be made to the secretary of the Treasury in writing by the governor of the affected state.

The governor, also upon written request, can be authorized to pass this information on to any other proper tax body of a lower political subdivision of the state.

There are a number of other well-known aspects of federal income tax disclosure laws, including:

— The secretary of the Treasury or his designated assistant must upon request disclose whether a particular person has filed an income tax return in a designated Internal Revenue district for a particular year.

— Any shareholder of record owning 1 per cent or more of the outstanding stock of any corporation can request and receive from the secretary permission to examine the annual income tax returns of that corporation and its subsidiaries.

— The records and papers used in establishing tax exempt status for any organization also are open to public inspection at the national office of the Internal Revenue Service, and at the appropriate IRS field office.

— This has been interpreted to mean the president has the right to look at returns under laws he has laid down. The Internal Revenue Service, however, has made it a practice to require that if such a presidential request were ever received it would have to be in writing.

The congressional committees authorized to look at returns are House Ways and

Hillard-Evans wedding at First Presbyterian

The First United Presbyterian Church, 22nd Street and Delmar Avenue, was the scene of the wedding Friday evening of Miss Sarah Ann Evans and Raymond John Hillard, 2601 E. 25th St.

A reception was given in the church fellowship hall immediately following the 7 o'clock double ring ceremony, performed by the Rev. David Maxton.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Tally M. Evans, 1917 St. Clair Ave. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hillard, 120 Random Lane, Hazelton, Pa.

Miss Karla Underwood sang "The Wedding Song" and organist, Mrs. Isabel Schmidt, played "We've Only Just Begun," "Sunrise, Sunset" and "Theme from Love Story" during the service.

Preceding the bride down the aisle were Miss Debbie Hillard, a sister of the groom, honor attendant, and Mrs. Tally M. Evans, a sister-in-law of the bride, and Miss Ruth Scheibe, bridesmaids.

They were gownned alike in long dresses of red velvet and bodiced with white dots. The bodices were fashioned with scoop necklines and short puff sleeves. A wide sash of white voile terminated in a bow at the back waistline.

Each girl wore a white picture hat accented with red ribbon and held three red roses festooned with white streamers.

Robyn Hillard, the groom's sister, was the flower girl. She wore an organza frock trimmed with Venice lace at the high neckline and edging the baby doll puff sleeves. Her long skirt was encircled with a gathered flounce and she carried a basket of red rose petals.

Tommy Fogel, a cousin of the groom, served as ringbearer.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the former Miss Evans chose a gown of dacton organza. She wore a Venice lace headpiece, accented with a white satin bow, to secure her lace edged veil of illusion.

Wide lace cuffs enhanced the long sheer sleeves. The fitted bodice was made with a sheer yoke and high neckline, appliqued with lace medallions.

Matching lace marked the front of the bodice and extended down the slightly full skirt featuring a flounced hem and a chapel train.

Her bouquet was an arrangement of red roses, stephanotis, baby breath and white ribbons.

The groom chose Brand Smith as his best man. Bud Hornsteyer, Randy Hillard, the groom's brother, Rick Davis and Denny Lockhart completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Evans chose a full length gown of pale blue organza made with a high neckline and long sleeves. The bodice was enhanced with white schiffli embroidery and she wore a sleeveless coat to complement her ensemble.

Mrs. Hillard, the groom's mother, was attired in a sleeveless pink polyester dress featuring a lace bodice and A-line skirt worn with a lace jacket. Both mothers wore carnation corsages.

Mrs. Sheryl Smith presided over the guest book. The newly married couple left for a honeymoon trip in the Pocono Mountains in Pennsylvania. They will return to Granite City to make their home.

Both are graduates of Granite City High School. The bride is employed at the U. S. Internal Revenue Service in Clayton, Mo. Her husband is completing his senior year at Eastern Illinois University and will graduate this month.

The next meeting of the groom hosted a rehearsal dinner at Tempel's Smorgasbord.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Freda Hillard, Mrs. Fay Tarigan and Mr. and Mrs. George Fogel, all of Chicago.

Beta Sigma Phi to enter float

The Beta Sigma Phi City Council met Thursday night in the home of Mrs. Ellen Wilson, 3246 Kilarney Ave., to complete plans for a float the group will enter in the Shriners annual circus parade to be held here on Sept. 4.

Mrs. Wilson, a member of Chi Theta Omega Chapter, and Mrs. Shirley Parnley, representing Xi Epsilon Chi Chapter, are co-chairmen of the decorating committee.

The hostess announced that Wilbur Waggoner Trucking Co., has donated the use of a flatbed truck for the float project and that S. M. Wilson Construction Co. will furnish lumber.

Others attending the planning meeting were Jean Forrest, president of Beta Gamma; Charlotte Charbonnier and Janna Galiardi, both of Pi Eta; Barbara Waggoner, president of the city's city council and a member of Theta Iota; Carla Ashmore of Nu Zeta and Jo Ann Kalert of Xi Epsilon Chi.

The next meeting will be on Aug. 12 at the home of Mrs. Wilson. All chapters are to attend the work session the chairman said.

4,000 delegates expected at national VFW Auxiliary meet

Plans for the national convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary were announced this week by Mrs. Odie Lee Gosselt of Monroe, La., and Mrs. Shirley Vidrine of Opelousas, La., auxiliary convention director.

Several area women are expected to attend the conference, scheduled to start Aug. 16 and continue through Aug. 23, in Chicago.

Arrangements for the event were finalized at a recent meeting at the Palmer House in Chicago, attended by the national executive committee, and chairmen and co-chairmen of the 19 committees responsible for various activities. Mrs. Frances Roche of Chicago, convention chairman, presided.

Among those present from District 14 were Alice Lynch of Duplo, and Mollie Bushler, Trenton, refreshment chairman; and Marian Pollmann and Marcella Reiken, Belleville, memorial services chairman. District 12 representatives attending were Joanne Dunagan of Collinsville, transportation; Gladys Niggit of Highland, first aid room; Carolyn Gorin of Litchfield, convention dress; and Millie Hecht of Highland, platform chairman.

Art Vater of New York, national convention director of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, also attended the pre-convention meeting. He was accompanied by several executive committee members from the men's organization. Mrs. Dorothea Ober of Elmwood Park, Ill., reported that advanced registration for the auxiliary convention has reached more than 2,500, with a goal of 4,000 by opening day.

A 75th anniversary history of the VFW is included in all advanced registration packets.

Any auxiliary member may register at a cost of $5 and receive a packet even though she may not plan to attend, Mrs. Ober said.

About 2,000 seats will be available to VFW and auxiliary members for the distinguished guests' banquet to be held on Monday, Aug. 19, at the Conrad Hilton Hotel. A total of 800 seats has been allocated for the Illinois delegation and may be purchased at $15 each for William T. Glasford, state VFW quartermaster.

A military parade, lasting about five hours and expected to be the largest ever staged at a VFW convention, is planned for 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 20. Units will assemble at Wacker Drive and proceed along Michigan Avenue to 9th Street, with a reviewing stand at the Pick-Congress Hotel.

Drum and bugle corps, drill teams and color guards representing VFW posts throughout the United States will take part and also will compete at the "Million Dollar Pageant of Drums" at 7 p.m.

Iris Society to meet Sunday

The Southern Illinois Iris Society will hold an auction and plant sale following its meeting at 2 p.m. Sunday, at the American Legion Hall, 222 North Poplar St., Centralia, according to Mrs. Rita Kinsella, society publicity chairman.

No admission fee will be charged and the public is invited to attend, Mrs. Kinsella said.

A Region 9 meeting will be held at Monticello on Sept. 21, followed by an auction of newly introduced iris, she reported.

Wednesday, Aug. 21, at Soldiers Field.

Mrs. Gosselt said that tickets for the pageant may be obtained in lots of 20 or more for $1.50 each, or at a cost of $2.50 each if purchased in lesser quantities from the VFW National Convention Corp., Conrad Hilton Hotel, Suite 512-A, 729 S. Michigan Ave., Chicago, Ill. 60605.

Diane L. Hecht becomes Mrs. John Hornberger

The Rev. Charles Dickson of Jefferson City, Mo., performed a double ring ceremony at 7 p.m. on July 27 at the Tri-City Park Tabernacle, uniting in marriage Miss Diane L. Hecht and John M. Hornberger.

Organist Jack Jenkins accompanied Miss Donna Cockrell, who sang "The Wedding Song," "Thee I Love," "And I Love You So" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hecht, 322 Carl Lane, Jefferson City, Mo., formerly of Granite City. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Hornberger, 2916 Warren Ave.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the former Miss Hecht was gownned in a white organza dress designed with a high neck, bishop sleeves and Empire waist. The skirt was slightly gathered and featured a detachable train.

Panel of Nottingham lace enhanced the back and front of the bodice. The panels extended down the front of the skirt, accented at each side with a lace ruffle.

Venise lace flowers were scattered at random on her elbow length veil held in place with a headband of lace leaves and an organza bow. She carried a cascade of white roses, stephanotis and baby breath.

Preceding the bride couple down the aisle were Miss Pam Clark of Corning, Ark., maid of honor, and Miss Debbie Yellon, a cousin of the bride, Mrs. Keith Cattani, the groom's sister, and Misses Jeanne and Kim Hecht, the bride's sisters, bridesmaids.

All wore identical crepe gowns created in an "old fashioned" style with high necklines, bishop sleeves and high rise waists defined with a belt that tied at the back. Their dresses were in pink, mint green, lilac, apricot and yellow, with narrow ruffles in deeper shades trimming the neckline and cuffs and forming a yoke on the bodice.

Each wore a white hat with colored streamers and held a colonial bouquet of tinted daisies, white carnations, pom poms and baby breath.

The little flower girl, Carla Hecht, a cousin of the bride, wore an aqua frock and carried a white basket of tinted daisies.

Billy Yellon, another cousin of the bride, was the ringbearer. Attending the groom as best man was Nelse Provence.

Larry Coker, Keith Cattani, Tim Elliott, Ron Koenen, Pat Higgins and Tim Lyerla completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

Miss Becky Coker registered guests at a reception held in the church fellowship hall immediately following the service.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents at Rusty's Restaurant in Edwardsville.

Plan pre-school center

St. John United Church of Christ, 2901 Narheoki Road, Granite City, will open a Pre-School Center Sept. 9, serving children of the community who have attained the age of four years, and are toilet trained.

The school sessions will run five days a week from 9 to 11:30 a.m., September through June. Tuition and fees will include a registration fee of $5 at the beginning of the year, and $2 per day per child, paid at the beginning of each month.

Parents may register their children in advance of the opening at the church Aug. 26-27, from 9 to 11 a.m. and 1 to 3 p.m. This is recommended so both parents and children can visit the facility, meet the staff and have any and all questions answered, school leaders said.

The school will be staffed by Mrs. Carol Chappell, director, and Mrs. Cheryl Hummel, assistant director. Both staff persons have been trained and have had practical experience with pre-school children. The center will be licensed under the State Department of Children and Family Services.

The goals of the center cover two major areas, (1) broadening the child's awareness and development of learning skills, including basic skills in language, music, art, development of motor coordination and the opportunity for socialization with peers; and (2) development of religious awareness, including the experience of affection-received and given, communication of the Christian story, and appreciation for, awareness and development of, personhood, church officers noted.

Information may be obtained by calling the Rev. Carl Eschenbrenner at the church 877-0060 or at 876-1079.

Teachers 'grateful' for funding

The Illinois Federation of Teachers, AFL-CIO, says Governor Walker's approval of a school aid increase provides money to pay for new teacher contracts.

Governor Walker said last week he approved a bill which will make up to $1.063 billion available for general aid to public schools in the 1974-75 school year, some $163 million more than was provided in 1973-74.

Oscar Weil, executive director of the IPT, a statewide union which represents some 45,000 teachers, says Walker's action in signing the bill to provide full-funding of the school aid formula is "a major victory for teachers and other supporters of the public schools."

"We are certainly grateful,"
Weil says, "that Governor Walker has made this kind of commitment to education."
Walker also pledged support to provide more money if it is needed to meet obligations of the state under the state school aid formula.

Passage of this increase in school aid by the legislature and approval by the Governor are attributable, according to Weil, largely to cooperation among educational organizations and political leaders. The IPT participated with other educational organizations during the last session of the legislature in a Committee for Full Funding of the school support law.

"I think our success, this year is a significant beginning," Weil says. "Unfortunately the amount of money we got will only enable us to keep up with increases in operating costs due to inflation. We must continue and improve our efforts in 1975 to make education a high priority."

"According to Weil, most teacher union contracts in Illinois have not been settled for the 1974-75 school year. "We are under no illusions," he says,
"about the difficulties we face at the bargaining table in protecting and improving programs for school children and providing cost-of-living salary increases for teachers."

"I would emphasize,
however," Weil concluded,
"that school boards now have the money, because of Governor Walker's action, to maintain school programs intact and to provide new contracts for teachers with salary increases to keep up with inflation."

Debra L. Page marries Terry Wayne Wallace

Miss Debra Lynn Page, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Page, 1 Moorland Drive, became the bride of Terry Wayne Wallace, a son of Mr. and Mrs. George Wallace, 705 E. Chain of Rocks Road, on July 29 at Tri-City Park Tabernacle.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony at 7 p.m. was the Rev. John Polizi.

Mrs. Judy Barnes accompanied Brian Chastain, a cousin of the bride, as he sang "We've Only Just Begun," "If" and "I Can't Help Falling in Love With You."

Mr. Page escorted his daughter down the white carpeted aisle. Her white organza bridal gown, designed with a molded bodice, was accented with a sheer yoke edged with a wide ruffle and Chantilly lace motifs. The long sheer sleeves ended over the wrists in a self fabric flare.

Lace appliques and an organza ruffle formed an apron effect on the front of the skirt and bordered the detachable train.

She wore a lace trimmed veil, shoulder length, secured to a lace headpiece and held a colonial bouquet of white carnations and pom poms intermingled with greenery.

Miss Alice Voss, maid of honor and Miss Janice Garber, bridesmaid, chose identically styled dresses in red double knit enhanced with a double row of white gathered eyelet at the neckline and encircling the hem.

They wore white ruffled hats trimmed with red lace and carried bouquets of pink carnations.

Mary Kaye Rose, a niece of the groom, was dressed in a long white doeskin frock complemented with a sleeveless red smock. She held a white straw basket filled with pink carnations.

Billy Owens Jr., a cousin of the bride, served as ringbearer. Attending the groom was Bill Wittkamp as best man, John Kataman was groomsmen and seating the guests were Daryl Page, a brother of the groom, and Harold Schanstat.

Julie Lloyd registered guests at a reception at the Long Lake Firemen's Hall, Pontoon Beach, immediately following the service.

Both young people are graduates of Granite City High School. The bride is employed as a ward clerk at St. Elizabeth Hospital. Her husband works at Bemis Visinet Mill, St. Louis, as a machine operator.

Post-wedding event honors Mrs. Howell

Yellow and green decorations were used throughout the home of Mrs. Irvin Slate Jr., 2940 Shirley Drive, on the occasion of a personal wedding shower honoring Mrs. Bruce Howell.

Assisting the hostess were Mrs. Edna Trower and Mrs. Irvin Slate Sr.

The honoree is the former Miss Dawn Voss, who was married on July 27 at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church.

Games were played and prizes were awarded to the winners, followed by the guest of honor opening her gifts.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames Robert Voss and Sharon Howell, mothers of the bride and groom.

The bride couple, Bertha Voss, Robert Ashcraft, Ray Ashcraft, Zora Slate, Sherry Swegle, Dottie Voss, Misses Amy Bono, Teri Voss, Betsy Slate and Penni Voss.

$240,000 grant for SIUE program

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has been awarded $240,000 for continuation of its Health Professions Start-Up Assistance Program, according to an announcement by the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The grant, to be used as "start-up" money for the School of Dental Medicine, will be under the direction of Dr. Stanley P. Hazen, dean of the school.

Dean Hazen said the funds are earmarked for building renovation. Plans for specific projects will be presented to the SIU Board of Trustees in September.

The grant is the third to be received by SIUE for the dental program. In a $178,571 project currently under way, the administration building is being transformed into a supplemental dental clinic, an uncompleted space in the new clinic is being developed, and a third building is being renovated for additional office space.

ANDRE KOSTELANETZ, who will return to the Mississippi River Festival Sunday to conduct the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra in an evening of classical numbers.

Ricci, Kostelanetz at MRF on weekend

Weekend Symphony concerts at the Mississippi River Festival Aug. 10 and 11 include appearances by guest violinist Ruggiero Ricci and guest conductor Andre Kostelanetz.

The Saturday evening concert, which begins at 8:30, will be conducted by Walter Susskind, who has chosen a program of Mozart's Symphony No. 38, "Linz"; Strauss' Till Eulenspiegel's Merry Pranks; and two works by Dvorak featuring Mr. Ricci—Romance for Violin and Orchestra and Violin Concerto.

Ruggiero Ricci is one of the few musicians of world stature to have made a successful transition from child prodigy to mature master. He made his New York debut at the age of nine in 1929 and first performed with the Saint Louis Symphony Orchestra just four years later playing the Symphonie espagnole of Lalo. He last appeared with the Orchestra in 1971 at Powell Symphony Hall.

During the last few years Mr. Ricci has undertaken concerts and recordings as leader of the City of London Chamber Ensemble, a hand-picked chamber orchestra in which he functions as both conductor and solo violinist. He also has initiated a series of recitals featuring the violin in duos with various other instruments.

For Sunday's 7:30 p.m. concert, Andre Kostelanetz returns to the Mississippi River Festival. He appears regularly as guest conductor of the major symphony orchestras throughout the world and has contributed much to widening classical listening audiences. He is called "the champion of recordings" and for the last 20 years the public has purchased over 45 million Kostelanetz records.

For his concert with the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra, Mr. Kostelanetz will conduct Mozart's Overture to "The Marriage of Figaro"; Debussy's "Printemps" and "Prelude to 'The Afternoon of a Faun';" Respighi's "Pines of Rome"; R. Strauss' Waltzes from "Der Rosenkavalier"; and Lehar's Suite from "The Merry Widow."

Senior Citizen events planned at State Fair

Senior citizens—those 60 years of age or over—will be admitted free to the Illinois State Fair on "Golden Age Day," Friday, Aug. 16, State Fair Manager Paul King announced.

On all other days, senior citizens will be charged 50 cents, half the regular admission fee, King said. Senior citizens must have proof of their age in order to be admitted, he added.

Special events for "Golden Age Day" will include contests for the most unusual whittling, woodcarving, needlepoint and rug hooking.

There will also be contests for the oldest lady and gentleman, class pictures, Valentine, Bible, napkin ring, walking, State Fair moment, and for the couples married the longest and shortest periods of time. Kitchen Band competition will be held again this year on the lawn of the Illinois Building from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Registration for all events, including the valts contest, will be from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. on the lawn of the Illinois Building. Free lemonade and cookies will be provided at noon and sandwiches will be sold at a minimal cost. Free transportation will be provided to and from the lunch area on the lawn of the director of agriculture's house from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m.

For convenience, senior citizens will be permitted to unload their cars and buses at gate 12, King said. However, they will be admitted free at all gates on "Golden Age Day."

New records by train at Arch

The Bi-State Development Agency and the National Park Service announced last week that the fiscal year ended June 30, 1974, set new records in revenues and number of passengers taken to the top of the Arch in Bi-State's Gateway Arch Passenger Transportation System at the Jefferson National Expansion Memorial. The passengers consisted of 620,725 adults and 196,018 children, totaling 816,743. This number represents a 2 per cent increase over the previous record established last year. Since the Transportation System opened on July 24, 1967, 5,202,384 people have ridden to the top of the Arch.

Illinois tours save energy

By MARY LOU MANNING
The Illinois Division of Tourism suggests that to save energy, take a few moments to plan your vacation route.

"You'll save time (and fuel) in the long run by not having to get out of your way to reach your destination."

They also suggest that, to conserve energy and money, your destination be somewhere in Illinois. And to make it easy to do, the division has released a new series of "Backyard Tours."

"These tours are designed for the traveler who wants to see a little of his own area," explained Mike Adist, tourism regional representative. "They are relatively short trips that can be made in one day or over the weekend."

Travelers to northwestern Illinois will find the Rockford-Freepport area rich in rolling hills and fertile valleys. Freepport is the home of the Stephenson County Historical Society located in a pre-Civil War mansion called "Gothic."

Besides the museum, a restored school, farm museum and an arboretum occupy the grounds. Apple River Canyon State Park, northwest of Freepport, is laden with limestone bluffs, deep ravines and streams.

Miners who headed for Galena to strike it rich in the lead mines often traveled through the park's well-known canyon.

One of the state's most picturesque cities occupies the southern point of this tour. Galena is both well-known for its historic 19th century homes and its U.S. Grant memorabilia. Antique-hunters can comb approximately 20 shops in and around the northwestern city.

For those travelers interested in the central region of Illinois, a trip through the Lincoln-Clinton-Decatur area is in order. Rich in Lincoln history, the town that bears his name is the only one named for him while he was still alive. In fact, Lincoln christened the town in August, 1833 by squeezing the juice of a watermelon on the ground, now appropriately marked by a monument.

In the Lincoln Rustic ice cream parlor they still spin the tale of how, on this very site, a gang plotted to steal Lincoln's body and hold it for ransom. The Postville Courthouse is an exact replica of the building Lincoln visited while on the judicial circuit from 1847 to 1857.

The Clinton area boasts a Victorian mansion which might have been the home of a well-to-do family in the 1820s. A short distance away is Weldon Springs State Park, a popular spot for camping, fishing and picnicking.

Persons interested in farming—specifically, farming equipment—will find Rybolt's Antique Farm Museum—to their liking. Located in Kenney, the museum features over 30,000 year-old farm tools, implements and tractors.

Copies of these two Backyard Tours as well as some 20 others may be obtained from the Division of Tourism, 222 S. College, Springfield, Ill., 62706.

Cancer research grant awarded

Cancer research will be continued under a $12,400 grant awarded to Dr. David G. Brown, assistant professor of pharmacology at the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville School of Dental Medicine.

The grant, provided by the Illinois Division of the American Cancer Society, is for research entitled, "Action of Polyamines and Polyelectrolytes on Nucleic Acid Synthesis in Mouse L1210 Leukemia." The study will continue through Sept. 14, 1975. For the past four to five years, Dr. Brown has been interested in the control of genetic activity in the cell, and in addition to test tube experiments, he has a line of leukemia cells growing in mice. He indicated he plans to use the mouse leukemia as a test system to examine the effects of polyamines and polyelectrolytes on the growth of cancer cells.

Dr. Brown presented a scientific paper concerning his cancer research at the Ninth International Congress of Biochemistry last year in Stockholm, Sweden.

budgets of some investigative units are known—such as the FBI, which spent $357 million last year—the records of such agencies as the CIA, Army and Navy Intelligence, and the National Security Agency are kept secret.

"I'm threatened because we do not know the facts about our intelligence community," Percy said. "Bills are appropriated each year, and we don't even know about how much each agency spends and the purpose of the expenditures."

Percy said information reported by GAO will be forwarded to the Senate Government Oversight Committee and hearings. Percy is the ranking Republican on the committee.

When the GAO report is completed, the committee will seek to determine what federal police activity is duplicative, excessive and unnecessary," he said. "The committee will make recommendations for better Congressional control of these units." It will be particularly interested in how costs can be cut and efficiency increased."

Percy said there is reasonable concern that disclosure of organizational information on police and intelligence work might threaten the country's national security.

"A careful, tight definition of national security is needed, but I do not believe that disclosure of certain organizational information about the intelligence community would be harmful to the interests," Percy said.

"Rather, such disclosure would, for the first time, subject that community to the comprehensive oversight which is the constitutional mandate of Congress."

MRS. LEONARD WILSON JR., the former Miss Deborah K. Conaway, who was married in an afternoon ceremony at St. John United Church of Christ, she is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Conaway, 3103 Wayne Ave.

Deborah Conaway married in afternoon ceremony

Wedding vows were exchanged by Miss Deborah K. Conaway, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Conaway, 3103 Wayne Ave., and Leonard D. Wilson Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard D. Wilson Sr., 2538 E. 28th St., in a late afternoon ceremony July 27 at St. John United Church of Christ.

The Rev. Carl Eschenbrenner performed the double ring ceremony at 4 o'clock before an altar banked with arrangements of green, white and yellow daisies.

Nuptial selections were furnished by Mrs. Irene Barritt, organist, and Perry Dillard, guitarist.

For her wedding, the former Miss Conaway wore a polyester organza gown complemented with a melody length veil of bridal illusion edged with Venice lace and secured to a lace headpiece.

Venise lace, centered with tiny rosebuds, created the standup collar, formed a V design on the fitted bodice and accented the long sheer sleeves.

Matching lace encircled the high rise waistline and formed a wide panel cascading down the front of the full, gathered skirt.

Her bridal bouquet was a colonial arrangement of white daisies, yellow Sweetheart roses and baby breath.

Maid of honor Miss Bette DeVine and the flower girl, Dawn Wilson, were dressed alike in gowns of mint green chiffon over taffeta.

The bridesmaids, Miss Pam Morris, Miss Tina Wilson, a sister of the groom, Misses Linda and Rita Conaway, the bride's sisters, wore identically styled gowns in yellow chiffon.

All the attendants wore white tulle picture hats with matching colored streamers and held colonial bouquets of yellow and green daisies and baby breath. The flower girl carried a basket of rose petals.

Eric Cunningham attended the groom as best man. Robert Conaway, a brother of the bride, Daniel Wilson, the groom's brother, William Bronnbauer and Lance Kemmer, cousin of the groom, served as groomsmen.

Escorting the guests to their seats were Mike Willis and Brian Hoff. Gregory Bailey was the ringbearer.

Cheryl Conaway presided over the guest book at a reception held at the VFW Hall following the ceremony.

A rehearsal dinner was served in the home of the groom's parents, for members of the bridal party.

Mrs. Conaway, mother of the bride, selected a blue formal length gown. The French lace bodice was accented with an accordion pleated ruffle at the V neckline and the cuffs of the long lace sleeves. The softly gathered skirt was made of chiffon.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Wilson, was attired in a long pale blue chiffon dress. A satin ribbon marked the natural waistline and a chiffon ruffle edged the neckline and cuffed the long sheer sleeves.

Both young people are graduates of Granite City High School. The bride is employed at Famous-Barr Co., St. Louis. Her husband works at Hubbell Metals.

Following a wedding trip to the Lake of the Ozarks, the couple will reside in Granite City.

SENIORS INVITED TO JOIN PINOCHLE CLUB

Area senior citizens are invited to attend a senior citizens' pinochle club which will meet each Tuesday at 4 p.m. in the 300 Room at Brunswick Tri-Mor Bowl.

Sid Magness, club president, said all seniors are welcomed to take part in the afternoon games. Coffee and cookies are served participants during a social hour, he said.

Navy Mothers donate $600

The Quad-City Navy Mothers Unit 850 met Thursday night at the VFW Hall and voted to donate a total of $600 to various groups on behalf of the local chapter.

Commander Mrs. Margaret Minzes presided at the meeting. The sum of $500 will be sent to the Navy Mothers national headquarters for registration and later be returned to the chapter for use in its charitable projects.

Members also agreed to send $25 to the Indigent Club in California; $25 to the Memphis (Tenn.) Naval Hospital and $50 to a needy family in Granite City.

Eleven members and a guest, Mrs. Mary Ann Bunk, attended the meeting. The mystery prize was awarded to Mrs. Elizabeth Ramsey.

A social evening is planned for Aug. 15 at the VFW.

Some of the employees reportedly felt that it was a threat against Supervisor Lou Whitsett or possibly Bell.

"I hate to think that some one would be sick enough to do something like that," Bell said. "It had to come through the door, though. There is no other way it could have gotten in. I have not seen a snake, let alone a rattlesnake, for some time around here."

Bell normally comes to work about 8:45 a.m., but usually does not go into the township office section that early. Supervisor Whitsett comes in at about 8 a.m. and the secretaries arrive at 9 a.m.

Expand Impact group's board

Eleven new members have been elected to the board of directors of Impact, the Illinois-Missouri Progressive Airport Creation Taskforce, it was announced during the weekend.

New Missouri directors are John R. Barsanti Jr., vice president, Kellwood Co.; William C. Fordyce, attorney, of St. Louis and St. Charles County; J. F. Hornback, leader, Ethical Society; Daniel L. Schaffly, attorney, and Whiteleaf T. Terry, realtor.

New Illinois directors are Roland Brunning, managing manager, Twelve Counties Southwestern Laborers District Council; Richard H. Dykes, executive director, Illinois Metro-East Industrial Development Corp.; H. J. Friedrich, president, Friedrich & Son Supply and Construction Co.; Dean Kemper, executive vice president, First National Bank of Belleville; Clarence E. Kuddell, executive director, Council of Contractors Association; and Herbert Schaefer, president, Schueler Bros. General Contractors.

The new directors will join the original board, composed of nine members from each state, which formed Impact as a means of resolving the continuing public discussion over airport needs of metropolitan St. Louis.

In its statement of purposes, Impact has adopted total commitment to continued improvement and use of Lambert Field, a belief that a second major airport must be built because Lambert has virtually no room for expansion, and a goal of seeking early approval of Columbia-Waterloo, Ill., as the most logical and feasible site for a new international airport.

BATTERING RAM USED
Vandals loaded a grocery cart with bricks and then used the cart as a battering ram Thursday evening against the door in the back of a building in the Crossroads Shopping Center where Central Hardware will be located, causing $500 in damages. The incident was reported to police by G. H. Sternberg, contractor working on the building.

Federal grant for air board

Granite City will receive a $26,550 air pollution control grant from the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, Cong. Melvin Price (D-East St. Louis) has announced at Washington.

The funds will be awarded under the Clean Air Act of 1970. The federal grant is sought annually by the Granite City Air Pollution Control Board to supplement city funds for enforcement of the city's air pollution control program.

DUAL HATS are worn by John Apperson of Granite City, one the top hat of the magician and the other the cap of a Granite City patrolman. Apperson, shown here with his assistant, his wife, Virginia, has just been elected a regional vice-president of the Society of American Magicians.

Policeman works at 'magic' in off time

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Pres.-Record Staff Writer
For any Granite City policeman who runs into a "tough case to crack" and feels "It would take a magician to solve this one," there now is such an officer.

Do magic and police work really mix? "Sometimes it helps to be a magician," says Patrolman J. W. Apperson, adding, "particularly when it comes to public relations."

Apperson, a former full-time magician who still keeps his fingers in the hat, so to speak, by giving shows around the city, is nicknamed "Officer Magician" around the Granite City police station.

He prefers not to use the title himself, not wanting to take glory away from the department's highly successful "Officer Friendly" program. At times, Apperson performs with "Officer Friendly" Glenn Wright for schools or groups, but he does so only for the fun of his magic since he is not part of the grant-funded Officer Friendly program.

John William Apperson, called Bill by his friends, has just been elected regional vice-president of the Midwestern States at the Society of American Magicians' National Council annual meeting in Boston, Mass.

As regional vice-president, he is in charge of managing a 10-state territory—Illinois, Minnesota, Missouri, North Dakota, Kansas, Wisconsin, Nebraska, South Dakota and Manitoba, Canada.

While not patrolling the streets of Granite City, or working on the unusual Johnson School junk playground (a pet project of a group which includes he and his wife, Virginia), or working on some other charitable or community activity, he performs with his wife for a wide variety of groups.

His wife works as an assistant and quite often during a show finds herself floating about three feet off the stage. The couple does levitation, sword box, substitution trunk and illusion shows as well as other types of magic. Apperson is known for always using live rabbits in his magic.

The couple has donated many shows for the handicapped, the Shriner's Hospital and other groups, as well as appearing in many "Officer Friendly" programs.

They have two sons, David James, 10, and Gary Todd, 8. The family resides at 132 Briarcliff Drive.

A professional magician eight years ago, Apperson joined the Granite City Police Department one year ago. He is a member of Masonic Lodge 677, and the International Brotherhood of Magicians, St. Louis Ring Number one, of which he was recording secretary last year. He also is a past president of the St. Louis Assembly number 8 of the Society of American Magicians when Virginia has been president of the Johnson School Parent-Teacher Association for the past two years and headed the Nameless City PTA in 1971 and 72. She currently is corresponding secretary for the Granite City Area Council PTA.

Mrs. Gergeceff, 68, dies

Mrs. Julia Gergeceff 68, of 908 Twenty-fifth St., died at 5:30 a.m. Saturday at Colman's Nursing Home. She had been ill 10 years and under the care of a physician.

Born in the Ukraine, she had lived here 63 years. A member of the First Baptist Church, she also belonged to the Order of Eastern Star, White Shrine, Rebekah Lodge, and DeMolay Mother's Club. She is survived by her husband, George Gergeceff; one son, George William Gergeceff of Webster Groves, Mo.; four brothers, Joseph Fedora and William Condis Jr., both of Granite City; Pete Condis of Dubois, Wyo., and John Fedora of Hazelwood, Mo.; her father, William Condis Sr. of Edwardsville, and two grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are listed in today's obituary column.

FORD'S 1975-MODEL CARS will be priced an average $418 higher at retail than 1974 models, and planned optional-equipment changes will increase retail prices even more. Ford didn't give the boost as a percentage but said it reflects an 8 1/2% across-the-board rise in prices charged dealers. American Motors separately lifted some 1974-model car prices 1.5% to 2.8%.

Ford Plans Boost In '75 Car Prices Averaging $418

AMC Lifts It Prices on '74s;
Ford Rise Doesn't Include
Planned Option Changes

By a WALL STREET JOURNAL Staff Reporter

DETROIT—Ford Motor Co. said it plans to increase the average retail price of its 1975 cars by $418 from 1974 models, fulfilling promises of substantial price boosts in the new model year.

Ford didn't say what percentage increase the $418 represented, but did say it reflects an across-the-board rise of 8 1/2% in the prices it charges its dealers. These prices, called "advanced retail prices," allow it to sell new models to dealers in advance of the official introduction of the autos in September. The boost doesn't include some planned changes in the optional equipment package, which will have the effect of increasing retail prices still further.
